HOW TO STOP UNION CARD SIGNING!

IN JUST 45 MINUTES YOU'LL LEARN:

- ➔ The five-level response to card signing
- ➔ A "can't miss" employee meeting
- ➔ Sound letters to employees on the unions
- ➔ How labor attorneys advise clients facing an organizing drive

When it comes to "stopping union card signing," listen to a veteran of hundreds of union election campaigns. We are proud to present Richard H. Wessels, founder of Wessels Sherman, a management-side labor and employment law firm. Mr. Wessels has served as labor attorney for a wide variety of companies across the United States.

On the CD, Mr. Wessels will work with his client, Company Owner Nancy Green. Ms. Green explains that she has heard rumblings of interest in a union at their plant. Mr. Wessels and his client will have an in-depth discussion about the proper employer response, training supervisors, letters to employees, employee meetings, a mini-campaign and no-solicitation rules.

This professionally recorded CD will enable the listener to deal more confidently with union card signing issues. It is easy to understand with no "legalese."

Listeners of this CD will know how to react to union card signing and/or a campaign. They will no longer be afraid to respond aggressively to stop it dead in its tracks. Employers do not have to be timid when talking about the
